Inês Guedes

In 1998 she began the graduation in architecture, and while studying was invited to participate in diverse architectural projects. In 2004 she was also invited to be co-author with Professors Pedro Bandeira and Bruno Figueiredo for the competition for the Music Conservatory of Coimbra.

The graduation ended with a final thesis on the subject Society, Public Space & Architecture. On that subject she was invited to speak at the lecture "Nova Geração de Respostas Sociais" (new generation of social responses) in which she presented the search of a proximity of the architect to society nowadays.

In 2005 she worked as architectural assistant in Rotterdam, Holland, at the office Korteknie Stuhlmacher Architecten. From 2006 to 2008 worked in a portuguese architecture publisher, Dafne Editora, and also as architectural assistant in the office of Nuno Abrantes architect. And from 2008 to present worked as architect in London at Hopkins Architects.
